Mr. Church's Reply to X.

FRANKFORT, KY., March 5, 1885.

Mr. Editor:

Your paper of last week contained an article on the legislative race in this county, which did me great injustice. I am not in the habit of noticing what is said by one who is afraid or ashamed to put his name to what he says, and would not notice this writer, who skulks behind the signature of X, but he makes misrepresentations which might be accepted as truthful statements by those who do not know me, and I must, therefore, ask you to allow me to reply.

In the first place the writer of that card can not deceive the public by signing it "X" and dating it at Peak's Mill. I venture to say, and my friends in that neighborhood agree with me in the opinion, that it was not written at Peak's Mill. The article reads like it was written by some one connected with a newspaper, and the spirit of it shows that it was written by one who has a personal interest in Col. Major's election as Legislator and Public Printer. If it did not come from some one connected with the Yeoman office it is very misleading. I do not mean to imply that my honorable competitor is, in any way, responsible for it. This anonymous writer, after puffing Col. Major, says "the candidates are divided upon one single question, and that is, who will best serve the interest of W. T. B. South?" "This," he says, "is the issue" in the race.

This statement is unqualifiedly false as far as I am concerned.

I have never taken sides for or against Capt. South. I have never promised him or any of his friends that I would take his side in the warden trouble if I were elected. I defy "X" or any one else to show evidence to the contrary. If Col. Major regards that question as the issue, X intimates, I am not responsible for his doing so.

I am aware that Capt. South, in common with a large majority of my fellow citizens, is supporting me in this contest, and I am very thankful to them for this mark of their confidence. If elected I will endeavor to prove worthy of their good opinion by earnestly striving to promote the interests of the people of the county. I am not informed as to the facts of the controversy between the Sinking Fund Commissioners and Capt. South, and will certainly not make up my mind as to the merits of one side or the other until I have read the testimony. If I am honored by the people of my county by being chosen to represent them, I will conscientiously investigate this and all other questions that may come before the Legislature, and then make up my mind and act in accordance with my best judgment. I think the people of this county, among whom I was born and have lived, know me too well to suppose that I would pursue any other course. They have greatly encouraged and aided me in all my struggles in life, and now that so many of them desire to place me in this position, I would be false to every principle of honor and gratitude if I did not strive to represent their best interests. I agree fully with "X" when he says "the best man for Franklin county is the one who will represent the interest of the whole people," and "that no one should be selected who proposes to represent any individual interest. I will cheerfully be judged by this standard. It is not my desire or purpose to go to the Legislature in order that I may thereby secure for myself a fat office. I do not seek the position as a means of securing another office and thereby advancing my own personal interest. I could not consent thus to barter the rights and interests of the people for my own financial gain. This race is not of my seeking, and I am making it only from a laudable desire to serve and please my people.

If I am elected I will be unimpaired by pledges or by schemes to promote my personal interest, and will devote myself unselfishly and faithfully to the service of the people of my county and State.

AMUSEMENTS.

"The Planter's Wife" at English Opera House.

Last night, at English Opera House, an enthusiastic audience applauded and wept at the stirring passages and pathetic incidents in that sterling drama, "The Planter's Wife." This play, which tells a story of American life, is by an American author, and has been favorably reviewed in the columns of the Sentinel during its previous presentation. "The Planter's Wife" is one of the few good plays written by a native, and is a relief to the bombastic and highly seasoned stuff that has been given to the public the last few years. The drama is a cleverly joined, consistently constructed and entertaining society drama, and its tenors upon the stage is evidence of its virility. Mr. Harry Lacey, one of our most promising young actors, sustains the role of Colonel Albert Graham, and gives a graceful impersonation of the part. Mr. Lacey has the rare quality of an easy stage presence and never overacts. Miss Edna Carey, as "Edith Gray," is a charming actress, and possesses a winning personality. She has rare knowledge of stage technique, and her acting won frequent applause. Maude Granger and Emily Rigg have been seen in the role during the former presentations, but Miss Carey gives a more satisfactory performance of the part. Her soliloquies were marvels of matchless elegance, the handiwork of Worth. Of the other characters Mr. Frank Karrington was effective as Arthur Blake, Mr. Macready acceptable as "Livingston." Mr. Sidney Drew gave a laughable performance of "Linceo."

Miss Hawthorn rendered her lines exceedingly well, while her acting was simply perfect. She is a highly cultured little lady, and belongs to one of the f. f. v.'s of New England. Her wardrobe is simply richness itself, and being used to that sort of thing all her life, she does not dress fine for show, but because she doesn't know how to dress in any other way. Miss Sawyer is an accomplished actress, and was pleasing throughout. The rest of the cast was satisfactory.—Indianapolis Sentinel.

A Great Discovery.

Mr. Wm. Thomas, of Newton, Ia., says: "My wife has been seriously affected with a cough for twenty-five years, and this spring more severely than ever before. She had used many remedies without relief, and being urged by Dr. King's New Discovery, I did so, with most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved her very much, and the second bottle has absolutely cured her. She has not had so good health for thirty years." Trial Bottle Free at Jos. LeCompte's Drug Store. FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class matter, March 1, 1895.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.
Editor and Publisher.
FRANKFORT, MARCH 1, 1895.

There was a larger crowd than usual in attendance upon County Court on Monday, though the sales upon the street were very light.

The saw and planing mill property of Messrs. Rodman & Sned was sold at commissioner's sale on Monday for $7,000, Mr. Mike Buckley becoming the purchaser for Mr. John W. Rodman.

Rev. Geo. Darsie will deliver the last of a series of sermons at the Christian Church to-morrow evening, taking for his subject "The fitness of the Gospel's conditions." All are invited.

At the ladies and children's matinee "Marguerite or, was She Right," will be presented with a full cast of characters. The prices of admission will be 50 cents for grown persons and 25 cents for children, to all parts of the house.

On Wednesday Messrs. Mangan & Darnell commenced tearing away the old frame buildings on the lot on Main street recently purchased by them, and will go to work at once to erect a two story brick living stable at that point. Within a half square of them was for many years one of the most popular stables in the city, operated by Messrs. Giltner & Link, and afterwards by M. B. & W. J. Chinn.

The Frankfort Cornet Band took advantage of the pleasant weather Tuesday evening to go out serenading, and did not forget the newspaper men in their tour around town. They poured forth a sweet harmony of sounds upon the still night air and proved that they were first class musicians and worthy to be encouraged by our home people whenever occasion requires. They have been working hard to perfect themselves in the art of music, and now have an organization of which they may well be proud. The Roundabout man runs thanks for his sweet serenades, and appreciates the more on account of the long and disagreeable walk the boys took to give it to him.

The band of French peasants, who have been strolling through the Blue-grass region for several weeks arrived in town Tuesday afternoon with their monkeys, cannon bears, sore-legged children, and dirty-faced women and children. They came striding along, the men and boys making their bears and monkeys perform for nickels and the women begging for money. As they moved along the street every dog in the neighborhood set up a howl. When they reached St. Clair street they frightened the horse attached to the delivery wagon of Messrs. Whitesides & McEwan, causing him to run away and throw a new table out of the wagon and smash it to pieces, when Chief of Police Hudson notified them to get out of town, and they went in a hurry.

Officer Chas. Noonan arrested Bob Wood, colored, Tuesday night with a ten gallon keg of whiskey on his shoulder and a carpet-bag, containing a jug and several bottles of whiskey in his hand. He first said that he was taking it to Col. Sam. Major as a present from Mr. Ed. Parker, but afterwards said that he had stolen it from the Railroad depot, and that several of the young men employed by the Railroad Company connived at and abetted the robbing. After having slept in jail all night he told another story, viz: that the whiskey had been stolen from the warehouse of Messrs. J. & J. M. Saffell's distillery, that he, Ambrose Phelps, Ben. Mosby, Dan. Thompson, Henry Garrett, and O. Scott had effected an entrance through a window and carried it off. The whole party are in jail. It now turns out that the warehouse had been robbed on an average of twice a week for the last three years, and several of the negroes arrested have been making their living selling the liquor on the sly. Several of them were employed at the distillery and there is no telling how much liquor has been stolen in the past three years.

Miss Katie Strauss, of Louisville, will open a dancing class in this city in a short time.

Rev. George Darsie expects to go to Louisville Monday to assist Rev. A. L. Hobbs in a meeting, and will be absent for two weeks.

Mr. Wash. Crutcher, of this county, sold in Louisville on Monday, seventy-four tons of hemp at $7 per hundred, to be delivered at Jet's Station.

Hiram Lodge, No. 4, A. Y. M., meets in regular semi-monthly communication on Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. A full attendance of the brothers is desired, as there will be work in the E. A. degree.

Drs. Geo. M. Reddish and Lewis M. Scott, of this city, graduated Tuesday from the Medical Department of the University of Louisville, the latter standing fourth on the roll of honor.

The uniforms for the members of the Capital Base Ball Club for this season have been ordered of Messrs. Crutcher & Starks. The shirts and pants are to be of a light drab cassimere, while the caps, stockings and belts will be red.

The Court of Claims met Saturday and ordered a new jail built and increased the county levy ten cents on the hundred dollars to pay for the same. So much for the indictment found by the grand jury.

Hon. C. W. Threlkeld, former Representative from Owen county in the Legislature, who now resides near Woodlake, this county, has been appointed a Justice of Peace in the Forks of Elkhorn District to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of Squire G. C. Hughes.

The laying of the water pipes on the South Side, which was suspended on account of the cold weather, was resumed on Monday, and the pipe layers are now busily engaged laying the main line from Second street to the river, and making the connections at the intersections of the streets.

Bob Green, colored, who was sentenced to the penitentiary for one year at the recent term of the Circuit Court, was taken to that institution Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Dan Meagher. George Finney, the other negro sentenced to the Penitentiary, was granted a new trial.

Editor Roundabout:

DEAR SIR.—The impression seems to have come abroad among the Magistrates of Franklin county, that the action of the Grand Jury in indicting the members of the Court of Claims demanded of them a new jail. Such however is not the fact, while it is a fact that every Grand Jury (and I believe I have been on one once every year during the time) for the last five or six years, have pronounced the present jail in bad condition. It does not follow by the action of the last Grand Jury that a new jail should be built, involving unnecessary taxation upon the citizens of the county. As one of the members of that Grand Jury, it was my understanding that if proper sewerage should be built, with water facilities for cleansing same, additional ventilation and light added, water closet and bed-stands and mattresses provided, and the whole jail white-washed and thoroughly cleansed, it would be sufficient. The capacity seems great enough to accommodate all whom it is necessary to incarcerate. The law says it is the duty of the County Judge to visit the jail once a month, and to prescribe rules for the government of the same. For a non-compliance on the part of the Jailer to carry out these rules, then the Judge is empowered by law to fine him for any remissions in duty. It was therefore out of the power of the Grand Jury to indict the Jailer, their only recourse being to indict the Court of Claims, which included the County Judge, for a failure to have this matter properly attended to, and a sufficient jail provided. I feel in duty bound to make this statement in deference to the inquiries of many interested citizens, but I make no apology for any action I have taken in the discharge of duty. Respectfully,

WASH. CRUTCHER,
One of the Grand Jury.

W. C. T. U. Notes.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union meets every Wednesday afternoon in the Chapel of the Christian Church. Every member should attend if possible.

A woman juror, of Washington Territory, was asked by another, to write in her album. She wrote: They talk about a woman's sphere As though it had a limit; There's not a place in earth or heaven, There's not a task to mankind given, There's not a blessing or a woe, There's not a whispered yes or no, There's not a life, or death, or birth, There's not a feather's weight of worth, Without a woman in it.

"What moderate drinking is not: It is not drinking in liquor saloons; It is not drinking on the sly; It is not drinking early in the day; It is not drinking by itself other than most times; It is not drinking to procure sleep, or to relieve pain. All men, and especially all women, who do such things are not moderate drinkers, and should beware."—London Lancet.

A LAMENT.

Written by the late Richard A. Siles, Esq., of Danville Va., a man of genius, a fine scholar, and a lawyer of distinction. The lines speak of the sad experience and fate of the author.

I have been to the funeral of all my hopes And ennobled them one by one; Not a word was said, Not a tear was shed, When the mournful woe, k was done. Slowly and sadly I turned me round, And sought my silent room, And there alone By the old hearth stone I wooed the midnight gloom. And as the night wind's deepening shade Lowered above my brow, When manhood's rays Were brighter far than now. The dying ember on the hearth Gave out their flickering light As if to say This is the way Thy life shall close to night. I wept aloud in anguish sore O'er the bright of prospects fair, While demons laughed And eager quaffed My tears like water rare. Through hill's red halls an echo rang, An echo loud, and long, As in the low I plucked my soul In the night of madness strong. And there, within the sparkling glass, I knew the cause to lie; This, all men own From zone to zone, But millions drink and die.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Bridgeport.

Spring has made its appearance. Farming preparations have commenced. Billie Roberts has been to Bagdad this week. Oscar Roberts was in Louisville last Tuesday on business. Born—Feb. 25th, 1885, to Mr. Robt. Storts and wife, a daughter. Young chickens have made their appearance. Mrs. Russell at the front. Capt. George Sudduth, who has been quite sick for several weeks, is better. Ben Sargent, who resides in Jessamine, paid a visit to his parents near this place last week. Mr. Thos. Middleton, seventy odd years of age, died at his late residence near this place Feb. 26th, 1885. The many friends and relatives of Mrs. Georgiana Hawkins will be glad to hear she is very much better. Mrs. Amanda Edwards, of Henry county, is spending several weeks in this vicinity visiting friends and relatives. Bridgeport and vicinity can boast of as many pretty girls, young ladies, and truly too, as any section in the county, but almost none are scarce. Mr. J. W. Zook, of Belle Point, who has been in Louisville for four months just past, recuperating his health, paid a visit to relatives in this place this week. His many friends will be glad to know that his health is much improved. Quite a commotion was created in this village and vicinity last Tuesday and Wednesday by the advent of a company of Italians having in their possession six huge bears and a number of monkeys. But being warned that their room was better than their company, departed in the direction of Louisville.

STONEY CREEK.

Mrs. Mary Brawner is on the sick list. Jessie W. Smith visited J. W. Steger last Sunday. Misses Minnie and Emma Moore visited Miss Roberta Smith last Friday. Dr. Alex. Bailey has returned from Kansas and resumed his practice at his old stand. February is gone, and our oldest citizens say that it was the severest they ever witnessed. Any person wishing to buy a No. 1 harness and work mare, please be accompanied by calling on J. W. Steger. John C. Allen, of Shelby county, passed down Stoney creek last week with a fat cow on his way to Frankfort. He said he thought he would glut the market with beef. Mr. A. J. Greenwell, the blacksmith at Bald Knob, has quit work at that place and moved back to Croppers Depot, in Shelby county, to work in the shop with his father, J. L. Greenwell. J. W. Steger has bought of J. L. Smith his photograph instruments and tent, which he expects to run the coming season. He invites all persons desiring pictures to give him a call and be accommodated with a good picture. He will be ready for business about the first of April.

Antioch.

Preaching to-morrow at 11 A. M. Mr. Henry Halle has rented and moved to the chapel farm. Mrs. Minnie Halle visited her mother in Frankfort last Wednesday. Our friend, Little Dave Moore, was the guest of Mr. James Gore last Tuesday. Mrs. Kate Shackelford, of Belle Point, spent last Tuesday with her mother. Miss Nora Gore was the guest of her sister, Mrs. George Shackelford, of Belle Point, Wednesday. Mrs. Finney and daughter, Miss Carrie, of Frankfort, were out last Tuesday visiting Mrs. T. D. Hale. Mr. B. F. Fretstone, of Frankfort, was elected gate keeper on the E. & F. C. pike last Monday, making three in less than a month.

Taking Care of the Body.

The Christian Index, the leading organ of the Baptist Church in the South, published in Atlanta, Ga., in its issue of Dec. 4, 1884, has the following editorial: "Too many people seem to think that a religious newspaper should be confined to the discussion of moral and religious subjects only, forgetting that religion has to do both with the bodies and souls of men. 'Prove all things, hold fast that which is good,' has as much to do with the practical side of life as it has with the moral side. Our readers will bear testimony that in all questions discussed in the Index, the practical has been duly set forth. In this paragraph, therefore, we only seek to present an article worthy of commendation. After subjecting it to the above test we have tried Swift's Specific and found it good—good as a blood purifier, good as a health tonic. In this opinion we are sustained by some of the best men in the Church. Rev. Jesse H. Campbell, the Nestor of the Baptist denomination in Georgia, says: 'It is my deliberate judgment that Swift's Specific is the grandest blood purifier ever discovered. Its effects are wonderful, and I consider them almost miraculous. There is no medicine comparable to it.' Dr. H. C. Hornady, one of the best known ministers in our church, says: 'Swift's Specific is one of the best blood purifiers in existence.' These brethren speak advisedly. But few preparations can bring forward such endorsements. The Index desires only to endorse these statements. We have witnessed the beneficial effects of this medicine, not only in our own households, but in several other cases where seemingly all other remedies had failed. It is a purely a vegetable compound, scientifically prepared, and perfectly harmless in its composition. It renews the blood, builds up broken down systems—gives tone and vigor to the constitution, as well as restores the bloom of health to the suffering. Therefore, we do not deem it inconsistent with the duties of a religious journal to say this much in its behalf. Treatise on Blood and Skin Diseases mailed free.
